The 2021 “unique” Awards Gala” will be held at TPC Jasna Polana. The historic property was built in the early 1970’s as the country home of J. Seward Johnson and his wife, Barbara. Designed by world-renowned architect Wallace Harrison, no effort or expense was spared in its design and construction. The result is an exquisite neoclassical country villa that captures the timeless elegance of the past while incorporating the comforts of the present. In 1998 it was converted to a private club.

This will be the first “in person” event for AIA New Jersey. The event celebrates the distinguished service of our past year’s presidents and their boards of trustees at our gala event. Presentation of our Service Awards, which highlight the best of our organizations members. These awards include: Distinguished Service Award, Architect of the Year, as well as many others.
